Travel the world with shnit

Started in Europe nine years ago, 2011 marks the debut of shnit international shortfilmfestival in Asia, and it's right here on our tiny red dot of an island-city: Singapore!

Featuring some of the best short films from all around the globe, this year's shnit OPEN Competition gives you opportunity to travel the world without ever leaving your cinema seat. With 75 short films over ten sessions, and over 900 minutes of global content, who needs to buy a plane ticket?

But if you're aching for something local, fear not because Singapore films have not been left out. Presenting ROJAK, a spinoff of the popular Sinema Showoff! short film programme, which will showcase a selection of specially curated local shorts, complete with post-screening director's Q&A session.

From Europe to South America, and for it's first time in Asia, the shnit international shortfilmfestival promises to entice, tantalize, and excite viewers with the best of short films from the world.

So join us at Cathay Cineplex Cineleisure Orchard, also known as the first shnit Playground in Singapore, for a weekend of film feasting this october!
